Successful Demo on Time Machine and Time Machine Sync Server Enable Time Travel on Premise and in the Cloud

Successful Demo for Large Insurance Enterprise in UK on how Time Machine and Time Machine Sync Server Enable Time Travel on Premise and in the Cloud

Blog Post: Friday, October 29, 2021

Customer needs time travel capability for complex application migration to OpenShift and are looking for a time travel tool for some of their critical testing use cases. The enterprise application to be tested will be hosted on Azure (AKS) so the tool must work with AKS and Azure SQL. We demonstrate using the Time Machine Pod to time travel on OpenShift and the Azure cloud with flying colors. Time Machine is hosted on Azure (AKS) and show a new Kubernetes cluster had created (AKS).

Time Machine for Containers

Time Machine for Containers Now Available in AWS Marketplace

Time Machine provides a virtual software clock and is container aware so testers can set a virtual clock at container level without the need to involve system administrators to change the system clocks. Time Machine Sync Server enables testers to broadcast the same virtual clock to all the containers involved with just a couple of clicks or via URL API from test script for test automation. Time Machine Floating License Server provides a container license pool, which can be shared by all the containers automatically without the need to call support to get license keys, which isn't practical for a dynamic environment or hundreds of containers.

HOLIDAY HAPPENINGS 2021 AT SOLUTION-SOFT

Thanksgiving Donation to The Ecumenical Hunger Program (EHP) in Palo Alto

Thanksgiving Donation 2021

Every year we like to make a Thanksgiving Donation to a worthy organization that helps the less fortunate people in the community, and this year, due to the ongoing pandemic, organizations like EHP in Palo Alto have a greater need than ever before. EHP provides compassionate and practical assistance to families and individuals experiencing economic and personal hardship. They offer material help, support services, and advocacy for their community in a challenging and rapidly changing environment.

Solution-Soft believes it is important to give back to the community and we have chosen this organization because they receive no government funding and rely solely on the donations they receive from businesses like ours, schools, congregations, individuals and service groups and provide much needed assistance to their community.

Solution-Soft Holiday Gathering on Zoom

Due to the constraints of COVID, this year we had our Annual Holiday Gathering on Zoom. Everyone had a great time as we toasted the holidays and played Solution-Soft Trivia where Chris F. from our U.S. office and Dragan T. from our office in Serbia both tied for first place.
